NET Framework 4.5 doesn't support it. I think I need an older JRE, or something else. A: That is because the installer needs a newer version of Java than the version that you have installed on your system. Check if you can find JCL and JEDI from an old version of Java available on your system. You might be able to download a free version of Java that is compatible with the old JRE version and use that one to install JCL and JEDI. Another option would be to use the new version of the installer that has been released after .NET Framework 4.5 has been released.

The Toronto Raptors' phenomenal season continued last night as the team cruised to a 121-91 win over the Charlotte Hornets in their final regular season game of the year. After a two-game losing streak to end the season, the Raptors began Game 3 of the series in Charlotte last night with a chance to clinch the series and their first ever Eastern Conference title. The night ended with a rousing celebration for the team at the Air Canada Centre, with champagne, confetti and a commemorative banner. "It's the greatest feeling in the world to win an NBA championship," Toronto Raptors' captain DeMar DeRozan said. "It's an honor to be a part of this team. We're going to celebrate this one for a long time." The Raptors defeated the Indiana Pacers in five games last year and are confident that history will repeat itself this year. "I think that we're going to try to finish this one off," DeRozan said. "I think that we're going to do everything that we can to get back in the Finals, and take home the Larry O'Brien Trophy." Though they have been one of the most dominant teams in the East all season long, they were pushed to their limits during Game 3. The Hornets may have knocked off Toronto in Game 2, but that was offset by the fact that the Hornets only led by one point at the end of the third quarter. However, the Raptors took control of the game and ran up a 46-point halftime lead, increasing that to 58 points on their way to a blowout victory. "I think that it
